ANNUAL
WOMEN'S INVITATIONAL
HOCKEY TOURNAMENT

FEBRUARY 4, 5, 6, 1983

HOCKEY HISTORY AT CONCORDIA

Women's hockey began on the twin campuses of Concordia University in 1975. Loyola initiated their program in 1967, while Sir George followed suit in 1971. The Lady Stingers and Loyola Tommies have made their mark on the local and national scene.

While the Sir George hockey squad suffered through a lack of facilities and able-bodied players, the Tommies built up a powerful squad after a few lean years.

The Loyola Hockey Tommies took the campus by storm in 1973-74, after sweeping the titles in the Loyola Invitational Tournament and the Quebec University Athletic Association, as well as gaining national acclaim with appearances on CBC's Hockey Night in Canada and the CBS Saturday Night News. In addition, goalie Janet Norman appeared in Sports Illustrated's "Faces in the Crowd" after leading the Tommies to a 21-6 season, including nine shutouts and a goals-against average of 1.05. Another hockey standout of that championship team, Diane Quart won the "Female Athlete of the Year" for four consecutive years.

The Concordia Stingers became the first team to win the Annual Invitational Hockey Tournament twice, when they captured the Championship in 1976. The Stingers, under Coach Bill Doherty will be looking for their third win this year, as will the York Yeowomen who won their second championship last year.

The Stingers have a good chance this year with the return of all-time high scorer Corinne Corcoran, who had an unbelievable 93 points last season with 51 goals - 42 assists in 33 games. Along with 11 returnees there is strong desire to win the Tournament once more.

The 1982-83 Lady Blues hockey team is working hard to retain their competitive stature after the loss of ten members from last year's OWIAA Championship team. Toronto features superlative goaltending in veteran Karen Ranson and first year player Debbie McCarroll.

On defense Kerri Hardill and Sue King complement the play of Sophie Radecki and Ann Teglas. Three first year players noted on the forward lines are Karen Hughes, Ann-Marie Kuhlberg and Judith Forbes. Team Captain Karen Wright, Vi Keenan, Karen O'Bright, Lori Andrade and Heather Ginzel provide a solid nucleus of experience for the offense.

The Lady Friars have established themselves as one of the top USA teams, with three straight 20-win seasons.

Coach John Marchetti's team has 15 returnees including two key forwards Jackie Gladu and Cindy Curley who had 69 and 63 points respectively. He will be looking to leadership from Gladu on offense and Mary Beth Hannon on defense.

It will take a total team effort to better last year's 22-3 record, but the Lady Friars will give it their best. You can count on a winning and competitive season once more .. that's a certainty.

The 1982-83 season marks the 9th year of competitive ice hockey for the UNB Red Blazers and the first year for head coach Dale Currie.

The Red Blazers do not have league to play in but play exhibition games and tournaments throughout their season. Last season the UNB team won the St. Mary's University Tournament, the New Brunswick Provincial Tournament and went on to the Nationals in Brantford, Ontario. At the Nationals the Red Blazers were very competitive.

This year the team has a strong nucleus of returning players and with the addition of six talented rookies, they have the potential for an even more successful season than last year.

The Stingers, who dominated their league the last two seasons, have lost one of their top scorers, Kathy Casey. However, Bill Doherty, coach for the last four years, has plenty of fire-power left as 12 veterans return including high scorer Corinne Corcoran. Corinne scored an unbelievable 93 points (51 goals - 42 assists) in 33 games last season.

Leading the list of returnees are Edith Langlois, Maureen Maloney and Julie Healy. Bienvenu, a versatile two-sport athlete will be in nets again, although it will be difficult to improve her remarkable 1.06 goals against average.

Once again the Stingers will battle for the Championship which has eluded them since 1976.

Back in 1978 McMaster was the winner of the Concordia Women's Invitational Hockey Tournament. They returned the following year and won the Consolation game. Then in 1981 they lost the Championship game 3-1 to Providence College in an exciting final.

Their league is a very strong one, consisting of the University of Toronto, York, Guelph, Queen's University and themselves. York and Toronto are particularly strong and Guelph has a much improved team this year.

McMaster's coach Jack Kennedy has great faith in his team and with 10 rookies on its roster their future will turn brighter.

With two of the top players in all of women's ice hockey in the States, Potsdam figures to field one of the strongest teams this winter. The super-stars are centre Kathy Lawler and forward Kim Wood. Lawler scored 93 goals and 30 assists for 123 points in 21 games last season. Wood was the M.V.P. in the 1982 Women's Intercollegiate Hockey Association's All-Star Game. She had 44 goals and 20 assists in 15 games last year.

The addition of Kim makes us highly competitive nationally, Potsdam Coach Brian Doran stated.

Other key returnees include Dianne Johnson and Peggy Donohue on offense with Buffy Bach, Sharon Matthews and Judy Molnar on defense.

York University's women's hockey team is presently in first place in the Ontario Women's Interuniversity Athletic Association with a 6-1-1 record. Walter Clost, the new man at the helm this year is very high on his team remaining in first position till the end. One of the above mentioned wins and the tie were earned against the University of Toronto, who have not lost a game in three years.

The Yeowomen won their own Tournament in early November by beating Concordia 1-0. The team is essentially the same as last year with the exception of three rookie additions.
